Representatives Plan Cautious Approach to Russia-Berlin Dispute.

By The Associated Press

THE HAGUE, H and June 20 —The f e powers t the Western Europe t r agreed today on a go-slow po y toward Russia n Germany

The representa ves of Britain France H land, Be m and Luxemb g were represented as cons der ng the c s ex reme y grave

A usually we informed s ce said the five na n council reached complete agreemen on a cautious po y f r a ive countries in the dispute with Russia over Berlin

This effort presented the United States with a united front of the countries of Western Europe interested in Germany It showed them opposed to any show of force or an ult matum to Russia

France prepared the propose formation of a Federation of Western Europe later today

Forums Delayed Action

Most conference observers said the French plan would receive little more than cursory inspection before being passed over for consideration at the council's next meeting in October

The council studied means of tightening the military alliance but reached no important decisions

The five-nation alliance is meeting here to set up a common defense linked with American armed might The delegates have before them a series of memoranda on recent talks in Washington between western European representatives and U S government officials on possible American military aid

The conference on the Berlin deadlock was attended by British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault Belgian Premier Paul-Henri Spaak Luxembourg Premier Pierre Dupong and Dutch Foreign Minister Baron Van Boetzelaer Van Oosterhout.

Situation Viewed

A conference spokesman said all phases of the situation resulting from the blockade and the possibility of increasing the American British airlift were discussed

The informant said the five officials take an extremely grave view of the Berlin crisis and will discuss it again today

He said they will also talk over the possibility of forging their armed forces into one defense weapon A report on the question has been prepared by the nations military committee The main aim of the conference is to strengthen out the five-nation 50-year alliance and consider the possibility of basing it for definite commitments of American military assistance

A conference spokesman said the delegates also have drafted a program for strengthening the economic ties between their countries within the framework of the European reconstruction program Final approval of the program will be given at a plenary session today, he said

CAN SUPPLY BERLIN FOOD, RUSSIA SAYS

Announce 100,000 Tons of Grain Available from Soviet Union.

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, July 20- With great propaganda fanfare the Russians announced today they were prepared to supply food for all Berlin, including the 2,000,000 German inhabitants of the western sectors whom they have blockaded for more than a month.

They claimed they would be able to do this with 100,000 tons of bread grains imported from the Soviet Union

The Soviet food was not available for the present. Shippers sent into the Russian sector of the city to buy rationed foods found that storekeepers refused to honor their coupons

It was held likely the Russians would put a limited amount of food on the market for its propaganda value but not enough to supply all needs

An announcement by the official Soviet News Bureau told western Berliners they must buy this food with Soviet-sponsored German currency which circulates here as a rival to the western-sponsored deutschemark

The announcement was timed to coincide with a statement by the western allies that they were unable because of the Russian land blockade to deliver proposed increases in food ration scales for their sectors of the city

Double-Pronged Attack

Thus the Soviet announcement was an attack on the western powers Not only did the Russians claim they could feed all Berliners but their announcement sought to discredit western sponsored currency as worthless for the primary function of buying food

In Frankfurt, Gen Lucius D Clay American military governor showed skepticism of the Russian offer to feed all Berlin

"The proof is in the performance, not in the statement," said the U S commander, whose planes have been flying nearly 1,500 tons of food and coal a day over the Russian land blockade.

Clay flew to Frankfurt from Berlin for a meeting of the British, French and U S military governors with German officials to discuss plans for forming a new German government in the three western zones

Reports in Press

(Morning newspapers in Moscow said the decision to supply food for Berlin was taken by the Soviet council of ministers acting on the request of the Soviet military administration in Germany)

Russian-controlled newspapers in Berlin again attempted to discredit the American British air lift which is supplying the blockaded western sectors of the city with cargoes flown from western Germany

"The air bridge is without avail —all Berliners can buy their rations in the Soviet sector in the future," the communist press said.

Russian fighter planes have "buzzed" the British airdrome in Berlin Western allied officials said however, that Soviet air tactics have not impeded the American-British aerial supply service to the city The Russian blockade with its attending economic paralysis, has forced the closing of nearly 1,000 of Berlin's industrial plants

The first reaction of western Berliners of the Russian food announcement was somewhat cynical Some said they would attempt to obtain the Soviet-offered food but one native Berliner employed in an American office remarked

"So now the Russians offer us food when they have shut it off from Western Germany They say it is grain sent from the Soviet Union But what about the low rations 16,000,000 Germans in the Russian occupation zone have endured" What about the millions of tons of food the Russians have taken out of their zone and shipped to Russia?"

American Cars Turned Back by Russians

By International News Service

BERLIN July 20 — Ten American cars were turned back to Berlin from the Soviet checkpoint of Marienborn today when the Russians invoked a ban on all highway traffic by western powers vehicles from the former German capital.

The U S provost marshal's office announced that the Russians had imposed their long-threatened ban on outgoing allied automobile travel from Berlin

Announcement of the Russian action came shortly after the Soviets proclaimed that they are shipping 100 thousand tons of foodstuffs from Russia to supply

ALLIES TENSE OVER RED AIR SHOW Corridors of tension are these three air routes to Berlin, from Hamburg, Buckeburg and Frankfurt, over which blockade-breaker planes are ferrying supplies A Russian air "show" is scheduled for July 25 postponed from July 18, and occupation authorities fear "incidents" may develop between Soviet and allied air traffic The corridors were established Nov 30, 1945 by agreement of the U S, Britain and France with Russia At Helmstedt, west of Berlin, a Soviet commissar is turning back westbound highway traffic in absence of Soviet travel passes.

TRUMAN SETS DATES FOR ALL AGE CLASSES

Schedule for Signup To Run from Starting Day Through September 18.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 20 President Truman today issued a proclamation calling for the draft registration to start Aug 30.

On that date, persons born in 1932 after Aug 30 will register

The proclamation also fixes the following dates for the registration of other youths between the ages 18 and 26

1 Persons born in the year 1923 Aug 31 and Sept. 1

2 Persons born in 1924, Sept. 2 and Sept. 3.

3. Persons born in the year 1925, Sept 4 or Sept. 7.

4. Persons born in the year 1926 Sept. 8-9

5. Persons born in the year 1927 Sept. 10-11.

6. Persons born in the year 1928 Sept. 12-14.

7 Persons born in the year 1929 Sept. 15-16.

8. Persons born in 1930 before Sept. 18; Sept. 17-18.

Boys born on or after Sept. 18, 1930, under the proclamation, will be registered on the day they are 18 years old or within five days thereafter

The President's proclamation called on the governors of each of the states and the territories of Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands and the commissioners of the District of Columbia to comply with the drafting program to "accomplish effective and complete registration."

Induction Time Not Set

There was nothing in the proclamation to indicate when actual inductions in the armed services will begin. By law, the draft can't start until Sept. 20. That is 30 days after Mr Truman signed the selective service act.

Secretary of the Army Royall said recently the first call will be "relatively" small and that later inductions will be geared to the number of voluntary enlistments.

Royall estimated that an average of 30,000 men a month will be needed.

Selective service officials will make their first draft grab at 20 year-olds—who otherwise would be ineligible after one more birthday.

Maj Gen. Lewis B Hershey, selective service director during World War II, made that known yesterday as he was sworn in as head of the new draft setup.

The draft law passed by congress last month requires men 18 through 25 to register, although none can be drafted until reaching 19 Hershey told a news conference after the swearing-in ceremony.

"There has been quite a little discussion of starting with the older ones first."

Eighteen-year-olds can avoid the draft by enlisting for one year and then serving for a longer period in the reserves. Such enlistments will be accepted starting tomorrow

Hershey said he does not know when registration will begin, how many men will be needed, or when they will be called up. The law says drafting cannot get underway until Sept 22.

Some 4,000 registration places will be used, the general said, as compared with 120,000 used before World War II. He added that 13,000,000 draft and registration cards have been prepared. The first registration is expected to total 9,000,000, with several thousand more men to be listed each month after that.

COUNTY SEEKS WELFARE AID

Commissioners Hope Special Session Will Bring Funds for Relief Dept.

Marion county commissioners are particularly interested in the special session of the 97th General Assembly which convenes Thursday at the request of Gov Thomas J Herbert,

With county poor relief costs virtually doubled for the first half of 1948, commissioners are looking to the legislature to appropriate additional funds to enable the state welfare department to keep up its 50-50 matching of county poor relief costs

Unless the state welfare department gets additional funds, Marion county along with other counties in Ohio stands to lose state aid to subsidy a poor relief cost that may go as high as $30-000 this year according to figures for the first half of 1948

Matching Funds Cut

Lack of funds has forced the state welfare department to reduce funds to less than 30 per cent at the present time, Carl H Lehner, chairman of the board of county commissioners said

According to figures in the office of County Auditor Maurice C Clements, the county welfare department has already spent $18,014.76 for poor relief in the six month period starting Jan 1, while receiving state aid of only $3,836 41.

The $18,000 figure is but several thousand dollars short of the total county general relief cost of $20,628.39 for 1947

The commissioners have made available to the county welfare department an additional $7,000 from available funds, to offset increased costs, Lehner said.

A large share of the additional cost is due to county care of the hospitalization of the indigent which until recently had been a township responsibility, it was pointed out. This added responsibility of the county welfare department has increased department operating costs as much as 30 per cent, according to Miss Vivien Hall, welfare director

Many Counties Hard Hit

Indigent hospital cost care has created a serious rise in county relief costs in many Ohio counties, Chairman Lehner reported after attending a special meeting of the state association of county commissioners called last week to consider asking for legislative action for more state aid

He reported that while Marion county still has an operating surplus in the welfare fund and stood to lose only supplementary aid, certain other counties have already gone through available welfare department funds and face serious deficits by year end unless the state can keep up its matching funds.

Reports from Columbus today brought the statement from State Representative Fred George of Cincinnati, representing Hamilton county that he would request the governor to ask the special session of the legislature to take action to relieve the counties of hospital care of the indigent.

BOOSTS METAL PRICES

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 20—Republic Steel Corp. today boosted foundry iron and basic pig iron $4 a ton at its Birmingham, Ala. plant. The new prices for foundry iron will be $43.38 a ton and $42.88 for pig iron The company, which yesterday granted a 13-cent hourly pay boost to 55,000 production workers, said the hike was caused by "increased costs."

Pressure On Governor To Expand Call Mounts

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, July 20 — The pressure began to build up today on Governor Herbert to expand his call for a special session of the legislature

The state civil service employes association was the first to get under the wire It asked the governor to provide for a 35 per cent pay increase over and above the 40 per cent already granted in post-war raises

The local governments can be expected to come next—and they have powerful backing among the legislators themselves Moreover there is one school of thought that contends that, since Herbert has called for the elimination of the three per cent sales tax on all purchases of less than 41 cents, he has opened the entire sales tax question

This would include the formula of distribution of sales tax revenues of the subdivisions. Herbert however, contends that the wording of his call precludes anything other than the elimination of what he termed 'the ten per cent portion of the tax'

Request for County Aid

Representatives of the local governments are meeting today in Lorain to map their demands

And from a third source—State Rep Fred George Cincinnati Republican came a request that Herbert broaden his call to relieve counties of the cost of caring for indigent hospital patients and to increase from one to three years the residence requirements of persons applying for relief

The governor made it plain that he did not intend to expand his call beyond its three given objectives—the sales tax reform an increase in old age maximum pensions from $50 to $55 a month and deficiency appropriations to the welfare department Those subjects, he reiterated, will be all that are considered when the house and senate are called to order at 1.30 p m. (EST) Thursday

To Supply Added Funds

The solons will be asked to provide some five and a half million dollars to the welfare department. Of this sum about four millions will be to enable the state to match local relief funds to the full 50 per cent authorized by law for the remainder of the year Under the present allotments the matching has slipped to about 29 per cent

In addition, they will be asked to furnish $1,200,000 more needed to meet the grocery bill for the state's institutions and $300-000 additional to meet an increase in the cost of coal Institutions use up to 275,000 tons a year

The session is expected to wind up its affairs before the week is out, since the bills to be acted upon already have been drafted by the governor's advisors.

If any attempt is made by the local government boys to swing in a punch or two to aid the cities back home, the legislative leaders can be relied upon to rule the expansion of the spirit of the call out of order The legislative leaders worked out the details of the session at a garden party Saturday at the Governor's mansion

The session is the second special one called for the 97th assembly The first was called last December 3 primarily to take care of a needed change in the gas tax law

Dewey, Truman To Meet in N.Y.

Governor and President To Appear at Non-Political Dedication.

By The Associated Press

The non political dedication of New York's new international airport will bring President Truman and Gov Thomas E Dewey together next week for a rare campaign year meeting of presidential candidates

Both will speak briefly during the half hour ceremony at the Idlewild field a week from Saturday

A White House announcement of the event said Mr Truman's off-The-cuff speech will be one "suited to the occasion"

But that may be one of the few treats in the long political war ahead for the President and his Republican rival for the White House

Dewey To Meet Stassen

Dewey, already at work mapping his battle strategy plans a luncheon huddle tomorrow with Harold E. Stassen the former Minnesota governor who contested with him at the GOP convention last month

Dewey talked last week with Senator Robert A Taft of Ohio another disappointed aspirant for the GOP nomination

Mr Truman meanwhile, concentrated his activities on the special session of congress he called for next Monday with a challenge to the Republican lawmakers to deliver on GOP platform promises

The White House said yesterday the President will renew most of his 1947 cost-of-living program, this time in the form of a definite bill

Any personal advice Dewey may have for Republican congressional leaders will be offered from long range however A spokesman for the New Yorker said Dewey has no plans to go to Washington either before or during the session.

At Columbia S C. Thurmond predicted he and Wright will carry "most of the southern states, if not all"

Winding up the national political convention season Henry A Wallace's Third party supporters are moving into Philadelphia for their session opening Friday Most interest centers on what the party's platform framers will have to say about two things (A) Russia and (B) the atom bomb

FRENCH LOOK FOR LEADER

Communists Propose Thorez To Head Coalition Government.

By The Associated Press

PARIS, July 20—Communists proposed today that their leader, Maurice Thorez, be designated the new French premier to head a coalition government of socialists and communists

Thorez was the first majority party leader to call on President Vincent Auriol, who is searching for a new premier France's middle-of-the-road government, headed by Robert Schuman, toppled last night after a dispute over the army's budget.

There was no immediate prospect of Thorez being invited to share in the government. He called on Auriol first because the Communist party has the largest representation in the national assembly They and affiliated groups have 186 out of 618 deputies They were not represented in the last cabinet.

Following Thorez was Andre Colin, secretary general of the Popular Republican (MRP) group with 153 members in the assembly Schuman is a member of the MRP, and many believe he will be called upon to form a new cabinet.

Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, also a Popular Republican, was hurrying back to Paris from Hague, where he attended the meeting of the five-power western European union

Socialists also called upon Auriol They have 103 members in the assembly, and like the MRP were represented in the Schuman cabinet. Guy Mollet, Charles Lussy and Alex Roubert made up the Socialist delegation.

Auriol was expected to try to find a premier who could reunite the "third force" coalition of Popular Republicans, Socialists and radical Socialists. Under Schuman's leadership they had opposed the Communists on the left and Gen De Gaulle's French people's party on the right.

U.S. TO SEND JET FIGHTERS TO EUROPE

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 20—The deputy U. S. consul in Glasgow said today the American aircraft carrier Sicily will land 73 jet-propelled Shooting Star fighters in Scotland Aug. 4, to bolster American fighter strength in Germany

The U S air force in Wiesbaden, Germany confirmed this, as did sources in London who reported

An American official in Germany commented "We are very happy to have them." He said the jets comprised a full group of fighters, adding that he did not know how long they would remain Europe.

The Wiesbaden official said the planes would be in Germany on a permanent basis. They will not be flown to Berlin. Their probable destination is the big U S. base at Furstenfeldbruck, Bavaria

Another 16 jets are enroute to England from the United States by air They touched down last night at Iceland and are expected here tomorrow

Possibly the jets could be used for training missions in conjunction with the 60 superfortresses arrived in Britain several days ago, or as escorts for British-American transports flying food to Berlin.

FORD STRIKE HINGES ON NEW CONFERENCE

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, July 20 — Strike action at Ford Motor Co. hinged today on a new conference between the company and CIO United Auto Workers representatives.

Both parties agreed to the meeting yesterday shortly after the UAW executive board unanimously authorized a walkout of 116,000 Ford workers.

A telegraphed appeal from UAW President Walter P Reuther to Henry Ford II for further sessions brought immediate acceptance from the young automobile executive.

Indications that the union was heading strongly on the new meeting came from the lack of large-scale preparations which normally precede a major walkout. Union sources said no pre-strike assignment of picket details and establishment of strike kitchens had yet begun.

Yet, all that was necessary to start the walkout was a nod from Reuther, UAW-unions chief executive.

DANUBE ISSUE OPEN TO ALL

Hitler Satellites To Get Equal Vote for First Time Since World War II.

By The United Press

LONDON, July 20 — For the first time since World War II, three former Hitler satellites will get an equal voice and an equal vote with their conquerors at an international conference this month.

The occasion will be the International conference on the Danube which opens in Belgrade on July 30. It will be attended by the United States, Great Britain, France, the Soviet Union, the Soviet Ukraine, Yugoslavia—all members of the United Nations, Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary, former enemies; and Austria, which had a special category during the war and will be only an observer at the conference.

The "cold war" between Russia and the West has blocked the admission of former Nazi satellites—which have not become communist satellites of Russia—into the United Nations.

GROMYKO "GLAD TO LEAVE" U. S. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister and delegate to the United Nations, Andrei A. Gromyko (right) almost smiles as he waves goodbye before sailing for Moscow aboard the Gripsholm at New York. Beside him is Yakov Lomakin, Soviet consul. Asked if he'd be back, Gromyko said "I hope not," and declared he was "glad to leave."

Russia To Have Majority

But at Belgrade they will have equality even with the great powers, thus giving Russia for the first time in postwar history a clear two-thirds majority in this International conference. One of the most interesting possible developments will be whether the West, certain to be out-voted, will agree to abide by the two-thirds decision of the East.

The Danube conference dates back to the long rows at the Paris Peace conference two years ago over the satellite peace treaties. But disagreement over the international status of the Danube between Russia and the Western powers dates back more than a century.

The forthcoming conference will be confused and obscured by many political, economic and technical arguments. But the fundamental issue is simple.

Shall the Danube — Europe's greatest river and navigatable from its mouth on the Black Sea 1,500 miles through the heartland of Europe — be open on equal terms to the trade and shipping of all nations of the world?

Ever since the Congress of Vienna in 1815 Great Britain has upheld the principle of equal rights for all on the Danube.

For almost as long and certainly ever since the Treaty of Paris in 1856, Russia has contested this principle and sought special privileges for herself and the nations bordering the Danube.

Thus the controversy is not one brought about by the current ideological struggle between eastern Communism and western Democracy. It existed before Karl Marx published his manifesto and before Lenin and Stalin were born.

NEW LOOK EXPERTS MEET IN NEW YORK

By The United Press

NEW YORK, July 20—More than 100 newspaper and radio fashion editors from the United States, Canada and 10 foreign countries today opened the 11th semi-annual national press week of the New York Dress Institute.

The visiting editors will view fall dress, coat and suit collections of 20 members of the institute's couture group—high style, high price ready-to-wear manufacturers.

They'll find the "new look," which first hit the headlines after last summer's press week summered down to uncontroversial proportions by most of the top designers.

The bulging hips which featured many of last fall's costumes have been discarded almost entirely. Hips are sleek. High waistline frequently accentuate a long, slimly curved line from ribs to thigh.

Of other "new look" features, skirt length remains about the same.

Fullness is generally modified. There is an apparent preference for the skirt that carries its swish in back, but controlled fullness has been centered also at sides and front with enough choice for anyone.

Narrow, rounded shoulders, frequently with top-of-the-arm rather than armhole seaming, are prominent in both dresses and suits, although there is squared padding in many cases for the woman who feels she needs it.

Crisp heavy silks, new looking woolens, considerable use of knit fabric and many handsome formal brocades and metallics are prominent.

Black in many collections has taken a back seat to color as a basic wardrobe shade. Dark elephant gray leads the parade in this respect, closely followed by light spicy browns.

Arrange First Class Test for Boy Scouts

A special opportunity for all Boy Scouts who think they can pass the test requirements of first class swimming, merit badge swimming and life saving and who wish to take a test is being arranged by C. J. Smith, Marion district commissioner of the Boy Scouts.

For all Boy Scouts who wish to pass a swimming test, Mr. Smith and several of his assistants will be at the Crystal Lake pool Thursday evening at 6:30. All who wish to take the test are to be at the pool at that time, and each boy must have his registration card and equipment needed to pass the test.

The Boy Scout office has announced that Scouts will be admitted to the pool for ten cents if they have a registration card. All Scouts who plan to take the test are to contact their Scoutmaster or assistant Scoutmaster prior to Thursday night.

ARMY RECREATION CENTER

Organized games and movies are scheduled for tonight from 6 to 9 o'clock at the Salvation Army recreation center. Wednesday night at this time there will be organized games and a craft class and Thursday night a balloon party is scheduled. The playground is closed Friday evening. LOCUST CRIMP ACORN SUPPLY FOR ANIMALS

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, July 29—Invasion of the southern and eastern counties of Ohio by the 17-year locust has put a serious crimp in the food supply for squirrels, deer and other nut and acorn eating animals, Dr. E. D. Martin, chief of the game management and propagation section of the Ohio division of conservation, reported today.

Dr Martin said that from 25 to 50 per cent of the nuts crops will probably be lost as food for nut eating animals in 21 counties because of the locust invasion.

The female of the locust spreads its killing campaign by cutting channels or grooves in the extreme ends of the twigs to serve as a nest for laying its eggs. The twig dies and often breaks off, affecting the development of acorns and nuts which are borne near the end of the twigs.

20 From Marion At Meeting in London

Approximately 100 members of Catholic Youth Organizations in the Western deanery, including 20 from the Marion group, attended a field day at Woodland Farms, London, Sunday. There was a picnic lunch and the time spent swimming and with contests and a baseball game. A dance on the terrace provided entertainment in the evening.

Members of the Marion CYO will initiate members of the 1948 senior class of St Mary Parochial High school at a meeting Tuesday night in Moira hall and on Thursday night will sponsor a dance in Columbian hall. CYO members from London, Delaware and Kenton have been invited to attend the dance.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

I had a sudden impish impulse to startle Olga with a peevish, perhaps profane expostulation against my father's order that during the present crisis of fugitive King Georges' affairs, the women of the Graham and Veritzen households must not go even through the halls of the hotel without masculine and armed escort.

It seemed to me a perfectly needless precaution, but I knew better than to argue that question with either my father or Philip Veritzen, and I realized that it would be equally futile to protest to Olga, who was loyally following my father's edict and that of her husband.

"I bow my head," I said with twitching lips. "But who will be the escort Philip and Dicky both are out of the hotel."

"I thought you would know that," Olga said softly.

"I do," I said, "and I am ashamed of not thinking of it. If you'll send me your telephone, I'll call Mr Olser the manager, and have him send Adams up."

She gestured gracefully to the telephone stand.

"Of course," she said. "And may I suggest grace?" she turned to Olga and Mary—"that we transfer all these gowns to the library? Then if any casual eye should look in from the door, there will be nothing out of the ordinary to be seen. We shall have to work in there, in any case."

Olga was gathering her own gown tenderly into her arms, and Mary was hoisting the long court train.

"It will take two women to park any one of these gowns except Faith's," Mary said. "I think one of us could manage that."

Olga was watching them narrowly and I saw her edging toward the telephone. She gave me a little signal not to lift the receiver but I knew a trick better than that. I surely slid down the transmitter with one finger while I held the receiver to my ear.

"I've blocked the operator," I said in low tones as Mary and Olga went into the library, and she spoke in low almost muted tones.

"Philip wasn't in the mood," she said. "I didn't dare bring up the subject of Noel's not being best man before he left. But after he comes back, if I call you and say that I'm sending Olga up with a message for you, will you keep her up there until I shall call you again? I will see to it that she has no sartorial or other duty here to call her back."

"I'll manage," I assured her with a smile. "Better get away from here now."

She moved away with the graceful flowing movements which are hers when she hurries, and I removed my protecting finger and called the manager seeing that Olga was arranging in her chair and that neither Mary nor Olga had come back from the library.

Mr Olsen promised that Adams would be on the top floor in record time, and I went back to Olga while Mary and Olga, bustling back again, lifted Mary's gown from its resting place.

"I'll help with yours, Olga," I said, "and carry Faith's over my other arm. Then we'll be finished before Mr Adams gets here."

My prophecy was fulfilled, with only a few seconds to spare. Adams was at the door in the "record time" Mr Olsen had promised, and he escorted me down the stairs to my own apartment.

I made short work of my errand, for I knew the dress I wanted, a little party gown I recently had bought for Faith, a ruffled pink organdy she adored. I packed it carefully in a box, and tied it loosely. Then I went back upstairs, dismissing and thanking Adams as Olga answered my knock.

She almost pulled me through the door, and closed it quickly. Then she spoke to Mary at the telephone.

"Tell him she's here," she said. "She'll be there right away."

Meeting Called Friday To Plan for Food Train

A countywide meeting of pastors, group leaders and committee members to work out details for the county's sharing in the Ohio Food Train for Overseas Relief project, will be held Friday night at the YMCA. At this meeting, scheduled for 8 p. m., goals will be set up, organizations formed and other details outlined for the overall county coverage.

"Share the wheat that they may eat" is the slogan of the organization, "Crop," which is sponsored on a nationwide scale by Church World Service, interdenominational body the National Catholic Rural Life Conference and Lutheran World Relief.

Whole wheat grains, milk and other farm and dairy products are urgently needed for distribution through church channels among the stricken people, orphans, widows, the aged and to pre-tubercular climes.

The sponsors emphasize that the food provided will be distributed in devastated lands "without regard to race, creed or color."

Three sections of the train will begin to move out of Ohio by Aug 26, it is planned. Money to cover transportation also will be needed and will be most acceptable, the committee states.

Floyd Umpher of Green Camp is general chairman, Dr Henry Schaeffer, president of the Marion County Ministerial association is co-chairman, Rev J B Holloway, president of the Marion County Council of Churches is secretary and Ralph C Hurr is treasurer. Committees are made up of men from various communities in the county.

Effects of Atomic Bombings.

If the people of the United States were ever subjected to the atomic bomb explosions so freely predicted by the prophets of the next war, would the survivors be more or less fortunate than those killed in the actual blast? In other words, would the intense radiation given off by such explosions cause strange and lingering illnesses more horrible than death itself?

These are questions in which all of us are highly interested nowadays. For medical men, in whose hands would lie the protection of whole populations in the event of war, the correct answers are of supreme importance. For this reason, plans have been set up to study the long-term effects of atom bomb rays on the Japanese survivors of the first such blast in world history.

Since a large number of deadly rays are liberated by atomic bomb explosion there was much speculation at the time of the Nagasaki bombing as to whether or not the area would ever again be safe to live in. Since however, the bombs burst in the air, only very small amounts of the products formed by the explosion remained on the site of the explosion and later investigation indicates that the bombed territory is today safe for living and cultivation.

Thus far, studies have also allayed fears that atomic bomb radiations would stimulate widespread development of cancer among people exposed to them. To date, at any rate, there has been no increase of this disease among the people of Nagasaki.

Scars due to burns, however, are frequently seen. There are also scars due to blast injuries from the force of the explosion. Most of the minor burns healed in the usual way. The more severe burns seemed to heal more slowly, but it has been thought that possibly this was the result of lack of good care.

There is an overgrowth of scar tissue known as keloid formation. Such keloids do not seem to develop more frequently in the healing of wounds produced by an atomic bomb explosion than they do in ordinary wounds.

Some of the rays, of a kind produced by the explosion, seem to be responsible for the development of tumors in both animals and human beings. These rays, given in small doses for a short period of time, may be responsible for the development of leukemia or tumors of the ovaries in animals. Leukemia is a condition in which there is a great increase in the number of white cells in the blood.

The exposure to the rays in the bombed areas was instantaneous and no significant amount of radio-activity remained following the explosion.

Many of the survivors had disturbances of the blood-forming tissues. However, two years later, this condition had cleared up in most of them. Leukemia did not occur any more frequently in these persons than is expected in any population.

Of course continued studies are being carried out to determine other possible effects of atomic bomb explosions, and efforts are also being made to find methods of preventing and overcoming such disturbances as may occur as a result of the radioactive waves produced.

MORE OPENINGS FOR JOBS HERE

June Shows Increase in Number of Positions Available, OSES Reports.

More jobs were available during June than in any month so far this year according to the monthly report on job statistics issued today by the Marion office of the Ohio State employment service.

The marked increase in job opportunities was largely due to increased hiring on construction projects in or near Marion, Fred E. Scheriff, manager of the local office said.

Demands for 988 workers including demands for 137 female workers were on file in the Marion OSES during June. Approximately one-third of the latter were for service workers and one-fourth for clerical openings requiring a knowledge of typing and shorthand. Even though there is a surplus of female workers, there is a shortage of registered nurses, cash workers, and stenographers.

Surplus of Workers

There is also a surplus of male workers in the county according to OSES records, but demands for tool designers, civil engineers, construction estimators, auto mechanics, furnace installers, electricians, floor molders, painters, and sheet metal layout men have been practically impossible to fill because of the lack of qualified workers in the area.

Construction projects in Marion county will continue hiring men during the next thirty days, but steel shortages in manufacturing are expected to keep the number of workers added near the minimum necessary for replacing normal turnover.

Approximately 1,700 workers were on vacation the first week of July, as a result of four plants closing for vacations. These workers returned to work Monday, July 12.

Although employment opportunities increased during June, the number of workers seeking employment increased from 697 on June 1 to 752 as of July 1. According to records in the Marion office 19 per cent of the applicants need additional experience before being classified in a specific occupation. This reflects, in part, the entry into the labor market of recent school graduates and students seeking summer employment. Construction projects have attracted other job seekers.

Majority Under 45

About 75 per cent of the men registered for employment are under 45 years of age, Mr Scheriff said. One-fifth are skilled, and represent construction trades.

More than four-fifths of the women looking for work are under 35. Half of the women have had experience operating light machine-shop equipment, and performing assembly operations.

The average weekly volume of unemployment compensation claimants reached the lowest figure in 1946 the last week of June when the average weekly number claiming unemployment benefits totalled 172. Approximately 50 per cent of these were women, most of whom were previously employed in dress manufacturing.

A New Holy Land Truce

SOLUTION of the Palestine problem may eventually come in a manner not previously foreseen. Palestine Arabs, who have had little to do with the fighting, are reported leaving the disputed zones in great numbers. When Syrians, Iraqi and Egyptians realize they are battling for a land that has become virtually non-Arab, they may fold their tents and silently steal away.

Meanwhile, the latest truce, which at first reports seemed to be having reluctant acceptance on the part of the Arabs, is the result of the strongest action yet taken by the United Nations. The truce was ordered under threat of imposing sanctions under articles 41 and 42 of the UN charter. Such measures would include "complete or partial interruption of economic relations and to rail, sea, air, postal, telegraphic, radio and other means of communication." Beyond this, there would be the use of armed power to enforce a sea blockade, assuming the UN could muster the power to enforce such a sanction.

As to the imposition of sanctions, the odds don't favor them. The British have always held that the Arab cause is "insufficiently appreciated and they "do not endorse any suggestions that the Arabs are the aggressors or that the justice in the dispute is all on one side." A British veto could halt United Nations sanctions.

No Objections

WHEN it appeared that the state's surplus of revenue collected through the sales tax would be earmarked for capital expenditures at a later date, the surplus was tolerated. It was even popular.

But it now appears that a surplus of income is an open invitation to treasury raiders. They would not be called that, of course. They would bear respectable names, blameless motives and powerful arguments for getting their share of the surplus. But they would share one significant characteristic—a determination to get all they could.

Governor Herbert has resolved the problem of what to do about treasury raiders by asking the general assembly to remove a large part of the temptation to raid the treasury. He wants the general assembly to eliminate sales taxes on purchases under 41 cents and at the same time to increase old age pensions and aid to the blind by $5 a month and to furnish additional funds to the state welfare department.

There can be no objections to this program. Naturally, some Democrats are peeved because a Republican governor is keeping his 1946 campaign pledge to cut taxes, and some of the treasury raiders who call themselves something else may not relish the prospect of disappointment. But these objections are not valid. If Ohio continues to collect more money under the sales tax than it can handle without tempting the general assembly to spend it foolishly, an even greater cut in the sales tax will be in order.

Bumper Crop Outlook

LAMB CHOPS are $1.50 a pound in Miami. Chicago hog prices aren't far from the all-time high of $30.50 per hundred.

Conditions making for such prices should be alleviated when the grain belt's bumper crops are in the bins. Barring unforeseen reverses, this year's combined wheat and corn crop should be 4,000,000,000 bushels, slightly more than the 1946 record combined yield. In addition, there are optimistic reports from most other agricultural nations, indicating that the food shortage is ending, except in the Orient.

This will be the first postwar year in which American grain exports decline. In 1946 Europe, unable to get in full production, relied on our record crop. Last year's European crops were failures and our own was the worst in a decade.

The improved outlook assures lower domestic meat prices eventually—not radically lower because government support buying of wheat and corn begin when the prices dip to 90 per cent of parity. Wheat is near that figure now. Corn is certain to follow. But prices will move as low as they can get with an artificial control over the law of supply and demand.

Land Reform: Phase Two

AFTER the Russian conquest of Hungary in 1945, one of the first acts of the provisional government was to divide the big private estates into small peasant holdings. Now the government announces it will begin collectivization of these holdings.

Thus Hungarian land reform starts on the course it has followed in Russia, where cooperatives gave way to state farms with the farmers no more than hired labor.

One of Russia's most difficult tasks was liquidation of the land-holding Kulaks. Marshal Tito's failure to liquidate this land-holding class reportedly one of the reasons the cominform denounced him. Now the Hungarian peasants, who have had a few years on land they hoped they could call their own, will be ordered to surrender those tracts.

Land reform admittedly is badly needed in several European countries. But land reform on the Communist plan isn't a division of the big estates. It is simply transferring them to state control.

A Promotion from Pershing

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—It isn't every sergeant in the Army who is promoted for splashing mud all over a full-ranking general.

J. Norman ("The Old Sarge") Lodge believes he is the only sergeant in the American Army who got a higher rank by giving Gen. John J. Pershing an impromptu mud bath.

Lodge, an Associated Press correspondent overseas during the second World War, served as an enlisted man with Pershing in Mexico and in France.

HAL BOYLE

Serving as a sniper with the infantry, Lodge was gassed in one early engagement in the first World War and hit in both legs by German machine gun bullets in another battle. When he recovered, he was assigned to duty as a motorcycle dispatch rider.

"In spite of the shell-torn roads we had to keep a schedule," he recalled. "From Soulily to Chaumont, Pershing's headquarters, it was two hours—an almost impossible feat.

"One day I was late and tore into the chateau yard at Chaumont just as Pershing was emerging, neatly dressed as always.

"It had been raining—it always rains during a war—and as I skidded up to the steps the motorcycle spattered Gen. Pershing with mud.

"His quick temper flared. His short riding crop, which was as much a part of his uniform as his highly polished boots, came up and down — across my knuckles."

Lodge, his knuckles stinging, saluted. Pershing took a look at the sergeant's stripes on his sleeves and said sternly:

"What is your name, Private?"

"Lodge, sir, 60985, headquarters, 101st infantry, 26th division."

Removes Stripes

Lodge thereupon handed the general's aide the dispatches. The next morning he cut the sergeant stripes off his sleeves before reporting for orders.

"The adjutant noticed it and smiled," Lodge said. "When I returned to my unit I had been given a rating as battalion sergeant major — two pay grades above my former rating—by the general's own orders."

"But that's the way Pershing was—a tartar, yet a softie."

Lodge recalled another time when his unit waited four hours in the rain for Pershing to inspect it. Finally the bugle blew attention and four Cadillacs sped down the line splattering the troops with mud. The rigid men said "Damn!"

But Pershing dismounted from his car and walked back on foot through the rain in ankle deep mud to review the whole line. Then he said simply:

"Colonel, my congratulations. Your lines are straight, your men are soldiers."

Firm Disciplinarian

Recalling Pershing's strict discipline during the Mexican campaign, Lodge said:

"We made forced hikes of 30 to 40 miles a day then had to groom four to eight mounts at nightly bivouac before tending to our own aching limbs and saddle sores.

"Many of us couldn't understand why we camped for the night and then had to ride extra miles for fresh water — for the horses. The men could drink alkali water, the horses had to have fresh water. But without mounts a cavalryman couldn't have lasted in that hell-hole for two days."

Pershing even then was known as "the ramrod" to oldtimers in the service.

"The name wasn't given just because of his soldierly bearing," said Lodge. "There was only one way to do things in Pershing's army—the Pershing way.

"It made no difference to the old man whether a man who swerved from the Pershing way was a full chicken colonel or the rawest recruit. He caught old Ned, no matter who he was."

Soviet Auto Plans

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW — "Moscow News" says that by the end of the current five year plan in 1950 the USSR will be producing 500,000 automobiles annually. This is three times the pre-war rate.

During this five year period the number of automobiles in the Soviet Union will be doubled.

There are now 10 large automobile plants in operation or under construction instead of the three plants that existed before the war. In addition to them four automobile assembly factories are being constructed.

The principal types of present day Soviet cars are the Zis 110—biggest, shiniest of the machines, a long 8-cylinder automobile, the Pobeda—a medium sized four cylinder car, the Moskvich—a low powered four cylinder machine.

(Automotive production in the United States now is approximately 5,000,000 a year)

Guests Big Eaters

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO—Visitors who have left Chicago with a "fed-up" feeling need no longer wonder why. It was something they ate.

The Chicago convention bi reau says in a year's time 900,000 conventioneers come here to meet—and to eat. The men and women, on the average, stay three days. That means 6,100,000 meals.

The itemized bill of fare includes 11,065,000 pounds of meat, 2,585,000 pounds of fish, 18,000,000 potatoes, 2,025,000 pounds of vegetables, 3,312,000 eggs, 9,000,000 slices of bread, 5,400,000 pieces of pastry, 3,600,000 scoops of ice cream, 9,000,000 cups of coffee.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Some Criticisms of Political Conventions

JOHN RINGLING NORTH should be elected permanent master of ceremonies of the Republican and Democratic conventions. That would, at any rate, assure a professional touch to the clowning; it would keep the bands playing in tune and time, it would synchronize the program so that it began and ended according to schedule and its numbers would finish on a split second. Circuses should be run by circus men, and these national conventions have degenated into circuses, designed not to transact important business in an orderly manner but to make noise, create furore, puff up ego of trivial personalities and to give adults an opportunity to revert to the fun of their childhood.

SOKOLSKY

Fun is fun and nobody can object to a goodly dose of it. But these two parties met a serious moment in the history of their country, in the face of a crisis in Europe, to decide on their principles and to choose four men two of whom must, by the course of events, be president and vice president of the United States during the next four years. This is important business—so far as most Americans are concerned, probably the most important business that can be transacted in this country this year.

Raises Hoover Speech Best

Except as the Jews fought for Israeli resolutions and the southerner fought against the revolution in their society, neither convention, on the floor, produced a serious approach to any of the problems that face this country or the world today. The leading speeches were tawdry in both conventions and it would take considerable study to discover the worst one. The best, of course was that delivered by Herbert Hoover which was of the heart. My own reaction—perhaps premature—to the worst was that of Sam Rayburn, although President Truman comes in for consideration, as his so-called "off-the-cuff" act lacked dignity, stature and a sense of fitness of the occasion.

Novelty Wears Off

This business of bringing in acts from the cellar of the convention hall to stir up demonstrations is time-wasting and a bore. The first time one sees and hears it, the novelty has some appeal. As soon, however, as it is discovered that it is all pre-arranged, that the delegates are only a sideshow, that many of the participants are hired mummers—then the whole business has to be compared with Mr. North's output at the Barnum and Bailey circus. And it must be admitted that Mr. North does a better job—and it costs less to see.

What is the value of the galleries? If they are spectators, why do they interfere with the proceedings? Why are they permitted to scream and shout and vote "aye" and "nay" as though they were delegates? It was the galleries that shrieked so vociferously when Mayor Hubert Humphrey of Minneapolis made one of the better speeches at the Democratic convention. But what business was it of the spectators to control the climate of a convention?

Prayers Criticized

Even the prayers seemed jazzed up. I wonder why the clergy so often feel called upon on such occasions to instruct God on what He should do about it. It would seem to me that the very solemnity of the moment would invoke the best of tastes, which is brevity, particularly while bespeaking the mercy of God on the foolish mortals who love to play with power. It seemed to me that Tom Dewey's prayer was superior to that of any clergyman at either convention, probably because he really was needful of prayer, as any man should be who enters upon such a task.

Why should not both parties spend the next four years studying these meetings and reaching an agreement on how to make the conventions dignified, decently conducted conclaves of their parties engaged in their most serious business? It would probably be necessary to cut the delegations and to reduce the number of spectators. Otherwise Paul Gallico's sage opinion that sooner or later, a convention will consist of reporters, columnists, radio commentators, photographers, television technicians and electricians, will be the fact. As it stands, these conventions are an insult to those who attend them and to the voter who hears and watches them on radio and television.

The Heck With It!

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Wednesday, July 20, 1938.

A premature dynamite explosion killed 10 members of a crew of 18 workmen blasting a water tunnel through solid rock near Baltimore, Md.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Brewer of near Marion.

The first evening program of a four-day centennial celebration at Green Camp drew a crowd of between 4,500 and 5,000 persons. The celebration marked "American Legion" night and Richwood's Baccarat Post No. 40, was in charge of a show featuring vocal and instrumental music.

Members of Ohio Eta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority motored to Findlay where they were guests at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Paul.

George Drollinger, 72, a former employe of the Marion Lumber Co., died at his home on Gill avenue.

Margery Heavlin and Esther Lauchet were chosen to represent the Waldo Nimble Thimble 4-H club in the annual county 4-H health county at a meeting of the club in the Waldo school.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Friday, July 20, 1928.

Possibility of death in the Ohio penitentiary was removed for two Marion county prisoners when Governor Vic Donahey pardoned James F. Madden and Howard A. Stevens. Both were said to be near death from tuberculosis. Madden was serving a 10-25 year term for complicity in the C. D. & M. payroll robbery of 1925. Stevens was serving a three-year term for embezzlement.

The first roof sign to serve as a guide to aviators over the city was being painted on the top of the Barnhart building. The work was being done under the direction of the Junior Chamber of Commerce airport committee headed by Charles Whysall.

Mme. Alfred Lowenstein, widow of the famous Belgian financier who plunged to his death from an airplane over the English channel, identified a body picked up in the channel as that of her husband.

Miss Geraldine Hilborn returned to her home in Bucyrus after visiting Miss Margaret Jack of East Center street.

Mrs. Rosa Hensel, 72, a resident of Richland township, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Klingel near Waldo.

An illness of 10 weeks from meningitis was fatal to William Morrison, 58, a native of Crawford county, at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. B. Hoagland of Barnhart street.

Unanimous approval of a plan for tuberculin testing of all cattle in the county was expressed at a meeting of between 50 and 60 farmers of Prospect township at the Prospect school.

Caution Needed in Berlin

By Walter Lippmann

BEFORE we reply to the Soviet note about the Berlin blockade, we should see to it that there is time for thoroughgoing consultation and full consideration among the western powers. The immediate thing to do, it seems to me, is to take measures designed to avoid collisions, crashes and deaths in the air corridor to Berlin. For that could make the conflict, which is already so grave and so dangerous, altogether unmanageable and irreparable.

LIPPMANN

The best chance of avoiding the irreparable accident which would precipitate war would lie, first, in an Allied decision to make a carefully considered reply to the arguments and the proposals which the Soviet Union has advanced, and—then—in advising the Russians through diplomatic channels that since a considered reply will take time to formulate, they will do well to instruct their air force commanders in Berlin to be cautious.

This diplomatic action would provide a better test of Russia's intentions than would a spectacular attempt to pierce the blockade by running an armed convoy into Berlin. For the Russians have said that they want to negotiate. If they mean it, they will readily agree to what would be in effect a "hold fire" understanding for the air corridors. If they will take measures to avoid the irreparable incident while London, Paris and Washington are formulating a considered reply, the door will remain open to the negotiated settlement which they say they want, while our decision to make a considered reply will prove what we want.

There are many who will object to such a course of action because they are under the impression that the allied notes were an ultimatum; that the blockade must, therefore, be lifted unconditionally before there can be any negotiation, and that anything else is a retreat and appeasement.

But the plain fact is that the three western notes about Berlin were not an ultimatum. The French note said expressly that the French government "will make no appeal to force as a means of resolving the differences that may exist between the Soviet government and itself on any point in the Berlin situation." Now when a government, after making a demand on another government, says that it will make no appeal to force, it is saying that it wishes to negotiate.

The British and American notes did not contain this explicit renunciation of a willingness to resort to force in order to compel compliance. But the French note must have had the assent of Mr. Bevin and Mr. Marshall. And when powers unite in a diplomatic action they must be supposed to mean the same thing.

Not So Regarded

Moreover, it is now reasonably certain that the British government did not regard its note as an ultimatum, as a demand, this is to say, that the blockade be lifted unconditionally and without negotiation. The diplomatic correspondent of the London Times, who usually expresses the official British view, said on July 15 that "if the Russians should propose talks covering a wider range than local disputes in Berlin, there is nothing in the British note to preclude these, although it only offers negotiations on the local issue."

Therefore, since we have not yet delivered an ultimatum, we are not yet stopped by pride, prestige and honor from looking for a negotiated settlement, we are not yet committed to enforce an unconditional compliance.

Apparently, it is, however, the views of our military authorities in Berlin that we should cross the Rubicon and use force. They should be careful. If there is to be another world war, let it not be begun lightly. For it will not be concluded easily. Let it not be begun on the advice of exasperated men in Berlin, nor decided on the frivolous speculation that the Russians will not fight if we act violently. Above all let it never be said of the United States that it resorted to war before it had exhausted the possibilities of negotiation and peaceful settlement. Yet on the record, which all mankind has before it and history will judge, the possibilities of negotiation have not been exhausted.

American Position

Our position is that we shall not be driven out of Berlin by force. We have not yet been driven out of Berlin, and as long as we stay in Berlin our honor and interest are preserved, even though we begin once more, however tedious and disappointing the labor, to negotiate about Germany. For the question at issue is not whether we shall retire from Berlin. It is whether, while staying in Berlin, we are willing to try again to conclude a general settlement about and with Germany.

The Once Over

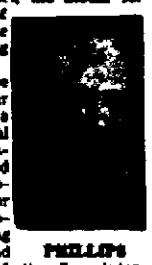
Letters for Special Delivery

MR. MICHAEL TODD,
Theatrical Producer, N. Y.

DEAR MIKE:

My shimmer is in the air for you. Without an "if" or a "but" and with no double talk you came right out the other day with the flat statement that you would put on a new musical without a ballet in it. "There will be no ballet. I guarantee it," you declared. I hereby pin upon your manly chest the Twitchell badge for Broadway Meritorious Conduct, the medal for High Valor in the Face of Mazda Lane Prudence and the accolade for the Outstanding Decision of 1948.



PHILLIPS

It seems too radical to be true, but I take you at your word that you will produce a "meat and potatoes" musical in which nothing will be interpreted by running broad jumps and cross-stage leapings. Your pledge to go in for music and fun with no acrobatic damsels symbolizing "The Spirit of the West Wind Overpowering the Hearts of Lettuce" or interpreting "The Triumph of the Pogo Stick Over the Old Fashioned Laugh Line," rates you as one of the daring men of Broadway.

* * *

I know there can be true beauty in the ballet. I appreciate rythm and art. It has its place but its place is not all over the stage of every musical show in America. I go to a musical to laugh and to hear catchy music, not to spend the greater part of three hours trying to understand why 32 chicks in bare feet are behaving as if they couldn't make up their minds whether to run, slide, try for a gain around left tackle or come in on a wing and a prayer. We have had four or five seasons of unrestrained gazelle stuff. I am fed up with the idea that young women are at their best when trying to be a boxkite, a rocky mountain goat or a butterfly with a bad case of St. Vitus dance.

* * *

Things had reached a point where no writer or producer would indicate that the hero was bent on love and kisses except by a symbolism requiring some queer music and a call for all hands to qualify in the hop, skip and jump events.

* * *

During the past season a couple of producers got back to the old idea that a musical show should be reasonably funny and that there was no audience disapproval, of good clean fun, but even these boys tossed in a ballet every now and then. It was pretty disheartening. So more power to you, Mike. I hope you have a musical number in it called "Look, Todd, I Ain't Dancing."

* * *

I like your phrase "a meat and potatoes musical." The public is starving for it. Just give us meat and potatoes, but not anything resembling filet of elves or fresh country sprites garnished with ballet routines plus tomato sauce. Look, Mike, I'm off ballets.

Yours,
ELMER.

WE HEAR that the delay in the arrival of the President's train to the convention was due to the fact a Pullman waiter offered him a Dixie cup.

The Wreckers

By TRUMAN TWILL

With an air hammer and a writ of authority one man can break up more concrete in a day than a dozen men can replace in two days.

With one of those iron balls that swing from a boom, a wrecker who knows his business can knock down at one swoop what a hundred men labored six months to build.

A charge of explosive skillfully placed and properly fired can undo nature's handiwork over the space of a thousand years.

Lumberjacks with power-driven saws can cut down an 18 minutes a tree whose growth dates back to the beginning of the Christian era.

As was fearsomely demonstrated on two historic occasions in 1945, the turn of a wrist required to release one atomic bomb can wipe out a city and weaken the props under a civilization.

Using the techniques of modern despotism, one man who knows what he wants to do can get rid of a whole code of social ethics painfully constructed during centuries of striving for decency.

Or relying on so feeble a device as a viva voce vote in a crowded convention hall, a group of citizens can set aside the basic principles of a society.

If further examples are needed to suggest that the potential rate of destruction has so far outstripped the probable rate of conservation that complete disaster is being forestalled only by human forbearance, a few thousand could be supplied on request. Every minute of every day the automobile, which itself represents hundreds of hours of skilled work, is being permitted to destroy itself and human life at an appalling rate.

Old houses infinitely better than anything which will replace them are torn down to make room for saloons. With modern power implements, men can push over a hill to suit their convenience or destroy a landscape that would have brought endless pleasure to posterity.

This is called progress. Some of it might better be called motion. Progress means to move forward. Motion can be in any direction, including backward. When men destroy a tree for the sake of destruction or commit any destructive act without a sound reason, they are engaged in motion that cannot be called progress by any stretch of the imagination—a fact that will be realized with sickening horror one day if the potential rate of destruction ever is fully realized.

CAR BUYER'S MARKET FAR AWAY--GM HEAD

By Intercontinental News Service

DETROIT, July 20—C E Wilson, president of the General Motors corporation estimates an automobile buyer's market is "at least two or three years away."

Wilson writing as a guest columnist Monday in the Detroit Times, said the auto makers have been unable to make much of a dent in their backlog of orders despite near record output.

He attributed the undiminished demand for autos to the transportation shortage resulting from the war and to the increased buying power of the public.

Wilson said automobiles are still among the least expensive things that can be bought "considering what you get for your money and the service they give you."

"If the automobile industry should charge for its products all that people are willing to pay, there would be no so-called 'gray market' in cars."

The General Motors president added that as long as the industry is willing to "sell $10 bills for $8 there will be people who will treat them as $10."

USE OF AUDIOMETERS EXPLAINED TO CLUB

State Health Worker Speaks at Lions Meeting.

Miss Betty Jordan, hearing consultant of the state health department of Columbus, was guest speaker at the Lions club weekly luncheon meeting Monday at Hotel Harding.

In preparation for the hearing survey to be made in the Marion city and county schools beginning in the fall with the use of audiometers, Miss Jordan demonstrated and explained the operations of the audiometer. She spoke of the means by which the audiometer determines difficulties in hearing and explained that there are three steps taken to determine hearing deficiencies. These steps are (1) preliminary test which only screens the person, (2) test to determine the depth of loss, and (3) a test which combines the first two steps.

The testing is done by six tones on the audiometer, Miss Jordan explained, and the intensity of these tones determines the hearing. In case a deficiency in hearing is discovered, the case is then turned over to a hearing clinic. The audiometer is used only to screen the children.

In starting the preliminary hearing tests in the schools here, Miss Jordan stated that they plan to start with the second and fourth grades. Miss Jordan explained that it is possible for a child who thinks he has normal hearing to somewhere have a loss of a certain kind of tone. All this will be determined by the audiometer test.

Final plans were made for the Soap Box Derby to be held Wednesday night and W. P. Applegett, general chairman of the derby, urged all members to be present to help with making the race a success.

Truman Asked To Tell Truth About Russia

By Intercontinental News Service

WASHINGTON, July 20—Sen McClellan (D-Ark) called on President Truman today to "tell us the truth about the Russian situation" in his first message to the special session of congress opening next Monday.

The Dixie Democratic senator declared that only the foreign relations threat could justify the July 26 special session call.

Asserting that domestic problems do not justify the special session, McClelland declared:

"What I would like to know is the truth about our foreign problems. "I believe the President should tell in his first message to congress just what is the real situation in respect to Russia.

"That is what the American people—whose sons will be drafted—want to know and need to know. President Truman is the responsible one and the proper one to tell us."

PUBLIC PAYS FINAL TRIBUTE

300,000 Stand in Rain To See Last Rites of World War I Leader.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 20 — A quietly kept lonely vigil today over the Arlington grave of General of the Armies John J Pershing.

Until sundown Thursday night a single guard will watch the spot where the 87-year-old leader of American forces in France in World War I was buried yesterday.

By custom, a guard is maintained for 72 hours over the graves of famous men buried in the national cemetery For the next 30 days, flags will fly at half-staff at all Army posts.

The stirring tribute that the military gave the general was matched by the unplanned, spontaneous farewell from the public More than 300,000 men, women and children stood through a beating Washington rainstorm to see the long cortege and the caisson with its flag-draped casket roll by

Upwards of 3,500 soldiers, sailors, marines and airmen marched the four-mile route from the Capitol to Arlington — and marching with them were a dozen generals

Gen. Dwight D Eisenhower, who in World War II was supreme allied commander in Europe, made the long trek, rain soaking through the uniform he donned again for the occasion. Gen Omar Bradley, chief of staff, Gen. Jacob L. Devers, chief of field armies, and the commanders of the six armies in the United States strode through the rain and, later, the blistering July sun that followed it.

President Truman came to the marble amphitheater at Arlington for the rites.

The bronze casket then was replaced on the caisson for the short trip down past the tomb of the Unknown Soldier to the grave.

There the chaplain said: "The march of another soldier is ended, his battles are all fought and his victories all won and he lies down to rest awhile awaiting the bugle's call."

A nearby battery barked out the 19-gun salute to the highest ranking general. A squad of infantrymen fired the volleys. The bugler sounded "taps"

Pee Wee Welch Pilots Miss Margaret Volo to Wins in Both Dashes of Feature Race

Chestnut Mare Comes from Behind Twice To Cop $2,000 Hilliard Pace

By GEORGE SCOTT

The name that dominated the Marion harness racing last night at the fairgrounds was Welch but this time it was "Pee Wee" instead of Scotty

In his first two races at the Marion meet Pee Wee Welch, brother of Scotty, drove Miss Margaret Volo to victories in the fifth and seventh dashes to capture the Hilliard trophy, the lion's share of a $2,000 purse, and the fancy of the crowd.

Pee Wee, who combined effectively with the speedy Miss Margaret Volo to win over a field of six in both dashes of the feature race, just came down to Marion from racing in Toledo He won over Fay Funderburk who brought Rhea Hanover to Marion especially for the big race Both in the mile run in the fifth and the long one and one-sixteenth dash in the seventh contest Rhea Hanover driven by Funderburk, placed second to Pee Wee and Margaret.

Suit Presents Trophy

O C Belt, chairman of the Ohio state racing commission, presented the silver trophy to N N Jones Jr of Columbus, owner of the five-year-old chestnut mare

A crowd of 2,800 saw Miss Margaret Volo jump into the lead at the start of the fifth race, a 16 class pace for a mile. Bob Mason sent Buckeye to the front but it was anyone's race going into the final back stretch. On the turn Welch took the outside lane but Miss Margaret Volo had the speed and stamina to overcome the added distance and crossed the wire first after the hard run in 2:09

In the seventh the plucky pacer showed her fighting spirit when again she had to come from behind This time, however, the shining aluminum sulky of Welch crossed the finish line far ahead of the rest of the field With the double win Miss Margaret Volo boosted her earnings for the year to $1,875

Jimmy Wingfield went to the top of the heap in wins as he drove Strong Hal to a win in the first and, after sitting out two races, brought Portfolio home ahead of Buddy L by 20 lengths in the fourth. Portfolio's time of 2:16 2/5 for the mile trot is the fastest by a two-year-old in the meet to date Wingfield now has eight firsts to his credit, one more than second place Scotty Welch

Cleverness Wins

Dr J G McNamara of Marion, president of the Matinee club which sponsors the meeting, had his third winner last night when Cleverness, driven by Charley Sims, outran a strong field of six The bay mare wasn't even in the running before going into the final turn of the 15 class trot of a mile But she seemed to sprout wings as Sims drove her across first nosing out the pace-setter, a beautiful gray horse called Silver Larry The favorite, Smokey Stout, trailed the pack

The old saying "The more crooked she runs, the faster she goes," proved to be true when Bobby Jo with Lou Huber Jr behind led all the way to take the second race with ease The bay gelding didn't look like he had it but in this case looks didn't mean a thing.

The daily double paid the lowest price to date, $7.20

REDS HOST LEADING BRAVES TONIGHT

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI July 20 — Boston's Braves holding a seven and one-half game lead over their nearest National league competitors, arrived today for a three-game series with the seventh place Cincinnati Reds.

The Reds, victims of six losses in their last seven starts looked to Herm Wehmeier, the rookie who started hot with five wins, to start a fresh Redleg victory streak

Billy Southworth the Boston manager, named big Bill Voiselle as his starting hurler

Leo Durocher's New York Giants landed on the Reds yesterday for a 14-2 victory Larry Jansen collected his 11th victory as outfielder Bobby Thompson drove in five runs, and the Giants got 18 hits

Homers by Walker Cooper and Thomson added to the Giant total, while Hank Sauer's 26th homer of the season was the only bright spot for the Reds

Kent Peterson, now a nine game loser against two wins survived only two and two-thirds innings He gave up five hits that accounted for five runs.

Tommy Hughes, a right hander sent in after Peterson lasted but one inning He gave up five hits, too, but they only brought in four runs

Walker Cress then distributed eight hits over five and one-half innings The Giants turned them into five more runs

The Reds had more troubles, too Frankie Baumholtz got clipped on the elbow by a pitched ball in the first inning Frankie had been red hot at the plate in his last appearances and has 62 hits in 180 appearances for a neat .344 average tops among Reds with more than 100 trips to the plate

And National League President Ford Frick has upheld a five-day suspension against catcher Dewey Williams for an argument with an umpire That left the Reds with only Ray Lamanno for receiving duties.

Johnny Wyrostek, the slim centerfielder who is batting fourth among Reds with more than 100 trips, is troubled with a leg injury as is second baseman Bobby Adams

2nd Outdoor Cage Court Being Built

Construction of an outdoor basketball court at Edison Junior High school was begun yesterday John Peacock president of the sponsoring Harding Booster club said today.

The court like the one under construction at Harding field, will be surfaced with black-top The Harding court financed by the Booster club and the Y's Men's Service club which recently donated $1 000 towards its construction is all ready for black topping which will begin next Thursday Peacock said

The Booster club and the Y's Men backed the outdoor courts in answer to a plea of Harding High school basketball coach Kenny Somerlot who declared that a large practice court was badly needed if the Harding team was to keep up with other schools who practice and play on regulation courts

Leo Durocher Is Off To Good Start in Managing Old Enemies

By The Associated Press

Leo Durocher is off to a splendid start in the toughest baseball job he's ever tackled—managing his erstwhile worst enemies, the New York Giants.

Preparing to tangle with the St. Louis Cardinals in a crucial series with second place perhaps at stake the Giants under Durocher have won three out of four games to pull up within a half game of the runner-up spot, now in a three-way deadlock

More important than their victories, however, is the way these "new" Giants have so quickly caught the spark and fire of Durocher Leo has been in charge only three playing days, but already he has his team hustling and running as never before this season. Yesterday the Giants scored a 14-2 rout of the Reds in Cincinnati

The Pittsburgh Pirates moved into a three-way tie with Brooklyn and St Louis for second place when they won a 1-0 shutout victory over the National league leading Boston Braves Manny Murtaugh's infield single off the glove of pitcher Johnny Sain in the seventh scored Ralph Kiner from third with the only run of the game

Although tagged for 11 hits including Andy Pafko's 16th home run, Emil (Dutch) Leonard pitched the sixth place Philadelphia Phillies to a 5-4 victory over the cellar-dwelling Chicago Cubs

The Philadelphia Athletics narrowed Cleveland's American league lead to one game when they swept both ends of a twilight-night doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox 8-0 and 6-4.

The Indians ove came an early 6-3 deficit to win an 11-inning thriller from the Washington Senators 7-6

Bobby Doerr slammed a home run off Fred Sanford with the bases loaded in the first inning for all of Boston's run as the Red Sox defeated the St Louis Browns, 4 1 at Boston

Rain washed out a game between New York and Detroit at the Yankee stadium

Driver Has Finished Every Place But Sixth

Before last Friday night Walter McCluskey of Prospect had taken every position in harness races at the fairgrounds except sixth and first

He drives horses owned by others but this time in the first race on Friday's card he drove one of his own to victory Riley 1st who previously had come in second and fourth, passed a field of eight to win the contest, a maiden pace for a purse of $400

SMITTY'S ALL STARS DEFEAT MANSFIELD

Smitty's All Stars are mighty proud of the feat they accomplished last night

Three times in the past they have met, and gone down to, the powerful Gorman Rupp softball nine of Mansfield until they began to think the leaders of the NCO league were invincible

But last night at Mansfield the All Stars exploded the myth defeating the Gormans 4-2 in a 10 inning game, for their 13th win of the season.

Smitty's took a one-run lead in the sixth but Mansfield pitcher Stretch Regula quickly erased that when he smashed a long home run with a mate aboard in their half of the sixth

A walk and Wilcox's double tied up the game in the seventh and there it stayed until the top of the tenth when a triple by Chuck Reid, who hadn't made a hit against Mansfield all year, pushed across the two winning markers

Tiffin will be here Wednesday for an NCO encounter at Crystal park.

And does he care if he takes a sixth place or not? It doesn't take any of the purse, would you?

KELLY NAMED TO START TONIGHT

Kristie Picks Southpaw To Work Against Dodgers.

Kelly who joined the Cubs just before the disastrous road trip began had pitched and lost two games, both of them by early low scores. The Cubs managed to win but three of the away games

He came to the Cubs from the Class B Springfield, Mass., Cubs

The game tonight will be played for the benefit of Marion's underprivileged children and is sponsored by the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs, whose members will still sell you tickets for $1

The Cubs will entertain Zanesville again tomorrow night and then the rising Newark Yankees will be here for a two game series Thursday and Friday

Newark took over second place in the standings of the league last night after the Springfield Giants took a 16-2 drubbing from Richmond. It was the only game scheduled

Richmond swept its three-game series with Springfield in winning its seventh straight game last night It was the Giants' eighth loss in a row and dropped them to third place

The game was featured by a wild fifth inning in which Richmond scored 14 runs in hammering three Springfield pitchers

Marion County Open, Country Club Championship, Carded

By BILL MURPHY

It's golf tournament time in Marion.

Beginning with the first eliminations in the Country club President's Cup tournament this week, there will follow the Marion Country club championship matches in early August.

An 18 golfers qualifying for the President's Cup shot scores below 78 the lowest of which was fired by W. H. Foster, 65, whose opponent will be D. Pollak, 68 in the first round—which is to end Sunday.

Dovetailing the 36-hole finals of the President's cup which is scheduled for the first week of August will be qualifying rounds for the Country club championship scheduled to begin July 31. Eighteen holes of medal play will start competition for qualifying scores, which are to be in by August 4, followed by 18 holes of match elimination.

The tourney will be run in three classes, with a 36-hole final to decide the champion who will come out of the class A division. First round of this tournament will begin August 5 and terminate August 11. All matches must be played either before or by the latter date, otherwise the contenders will be dropped from competition.

Owens Is Defending Champ

Defending champion will be Boo Owens who has won the championship several times in the past 10 or 12 years he has competed in the Marion tournaments. He took the championship from Sherwood Borland in the 1947 playoff, and by virtue of his championship status will be exempt from the qualifying rounds.

Keen competition this year will force champion Owens to his best stroke, with such golfers as the following expected to enter the Country club classic.

L. K. "Obie" Oberlander, a finalist in last year's club tournament and a nine-stroke handicap man will be vieing again this year; Herb Petrich, another nine-man, Johnny Rife (8), a newcomer to the club this year and virtually a sensation on Marion courses in previous years, will be a mean competitor, Bob McKeever (8), a threat, Harry Lasser (13), but a man who Pro Bill Alves said he wouldn't offer nine. Constant Line (8), an old time caddy at the club and shot through with experience, Barney Buettin, an (8) man who can be and generally is a toughie, John Dugan (9), "who can give a fella an awful lot of trouble," in the words of Bill Alves, Bob Graham (8), very tough, Maurice "Maury" Cornell (10), a dangerous match player and Wally Thompson (11) and also dangerous.

Open Starts in August

Marion county's annual open golf tournament will get underway the first week in August and will be directed by Robert Cripps and Robert McKeever. It is sponsored by the Y's Men's club and will be open to any Marion County golfer. Entry fee for the affair which is scheduled to be runoff over a two-day period will be $3.

It will consist of 18-holes to qualify and 12-holes of medal play and will be divided into three flights 70 to 80—class A, 80 to 90—class B, 90 to 100—class C.

The Marion Star trophy will again be awarded to the winner in the class A division and numerous other prizes will go to winners and runners-up in the other divisions. Permanent possession of The Star circulating trophy can be had only by winning the tournament three times, not necessarily in successive years, although Johnny Rife—the only three-time winner—took possession of the trophy the first three times it was offered.

Johnny, tobacco-chewing and par-shooting grandmaster of the Mar-O-Dal golf course, carded a birdie 4 on the thirty-sixth hole to defeat Carl Wiseman, 1-up and win the championship cup the first year of its existence.

Other events scheduled here will include an inter-club match between the Bucyrus and Marion Country clubs here tomorrow afternoon, and a lowest 12 net holes tournament here tomorrow. A two ball, best ball tournament is scheduled for Saturday of this week, and a team from the Country club will be guest at Lima Shawnee Country club July 26.

OUTFIELD SWITCH WORKS FOR TRIBE

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON July 20 — One outfield switch today made Manager Lou Boudreau of the league-leading Cleveland Indians look like the "manager of the year."

Lou has inserted rifle-armed Bob Kennedy into right field several times this season as a defensive maneuver in the late innings, but the move never hit pay dirt as spectacularly as it did last night when the Tribe edged Washington, 7-6, in an 11-inning thriller.

Allie Clark had just made a hard-running catch of a long fly with the score tied, 6-6, in the bottom half of the 10th, and Washington runner Ed Stewart moved from second to third on the play. Boudreau then put Kennedy in right and Larry Doby in center as defensive moves.

Al Kozar hit the next pitch to right field and Kennedy took the long fly whipped a sensational throw to the plate and cut off the winning run with a double play.

Dale Mitchell rapped a single for his fourth hit in six trips in the Indians' half of the 11th. Doby forced Mitchell and stole second before Kennedy clinched hero honors with a game-winning single to left which scored Doby.

Mitchell capped his four-hit performance with another outfield-catcher double play to end the game in the bottom half of the frame. He nabbed a fly and rifled the ball to the plate to cut down Earl Wooten, who tried to score the tying run from third base.

Steve Gromek, sixth of seven Tribe hurlers, gained credit for his fourth win after starter Bob Lemon was shelled from the mound. Joe Gordon's 18th homer with two aboard gave the Indians a temporary lead, but the Nats moved ahead with a five-run outburst against Lemon. Jim Hegan then sent the game into extra innings with a two-run triple.

The victory kept the Indians one game in front of Philadelphia, which swept a twi-night doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox, and stretched Cleveland's lead to 3½ games ahead of the third-place New York Yankees.

Don Black takes the mound tonight against Ray Scarborough as the Tribe attempts to sweep its four-game series with the Nats.

Softball Tourney Entry Deadline Extended 2 Days

Entry deadline for the District Six softball tournaments at Bucyrus which was first set July 19 has been extended to July 21, Ted Baker, tournament manager, reported today.

Due to the large number of players still on vacations that started July 4, many teams that would otherwise participate in the seven-county softball festival have been unable to meet the former entry date.

Any team from the six counties, which includes Marion, Wyandot, Crawford, Richland, Ashland, Morrow and Knox—girls and boys teams—may enter by telephoning collect Ted Baker 3289 or 4167, at Bucyrus. Drawings are to be made Wednesday noon and the teams that are to play early in the tournament will be notified by phone or wire at once. Teams scheduled to play in the later games will receive word by mail. If time does not permit a team entering by the regular entry blank procedure simply a promise to appear for the game will get a team's name in the drawing, Baker said.

The tournaments are sponsored by the Lion's club of Bucyrus and proceeds derived from the contests will go towards improving the playground. The tournaments will run from July 21 to August 13, with the girls' teams playing the first playoffs.

REPUBLIC STEEL MEN GET WAGE BOOST

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, July 20 — Republic Steel Corp. of Cleveland, the nation's third largest producer has granted a 13-cent hourly wage increase to 35,000 production workers, President Philip Murray of the CIO-United Steelworkers announced.

Murray said the Republic agreement was made yesterday under the same terms as the wage boost pact reached with U. S. Steel last Friday. U. S. Steel granted hourly wage increase of 9½ to 15 cents, averaging 13 cents.

The U. S. Steel contract also was extended to April 1950, with a wage reopening clause effective in July, 1949.

In addition to Republic and U. S. Steel, Weirton Steel Corp. was granted a 14 cent hourly wage raise and Bethlehem Steel Corp. gave its workers a 13-cent hike.

Meanwhile the steelworkers union was scheduled to resume negotiations today with Youngstown Steel and Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.

The Republic pact brought to 400,000 the number of workers in the basic steel industry granted increases since last Friday. Approximately 800,000 workers are expected to be covered when negotiations have been completed with all the basic and fabricating steel companies.

MARIONITE FINDS $300 CASE, RECEIVES REWARD

Ray Wilcox of 256 Windsor street believes honesty is the best policy, practices his belief, and has found it pays off—$25 worth.

At 12:10 a. m. Sunday Wilcox found a sling style leather case in the parking lot behind the Hotel Harding. The case was rather heavy for its size. Wilcox picked it up and took it across Orchard street to police headquarters where officers examined it, took Wilcox' name and his account of how he found the case and placed it in police property room.

At 8:50 a. m. Sunday a distraught looking individual wearing a worried and hopeless look came into police headquarters asking if anyone had turned in a case containing three cameras, value $300. The worried looking man, Ralph Mason of Bourbon, Ind., described each of the cameras perfectly and gave complete details of the construction of the leather case.

When police produced the case and told how it had been discovered the stranger was thunderstruck, a police spokesman said. To show his appreciation to Wilcox, Mr. Mason left a check for $25 with police to give to him.

AA Lead at Stake In Brewer-Tribe Game

By The Associated Press

Indianapolis and Milwaukee wind up their crucial two-game series tonight with the American Association lead hanging in the balance.

The batting Brewers topped the Tribe 11-9 last night to cut the Indians first place edge to ½ game. The Indians piled up five unearned runs against Jim Prendergast in the early innings. The Brewers finally settled down behind Glen Elliott to give him his 18th win. Jim Gleeson headed an 11-hit Milwaukee attack with a two run homer in the fifth while Don Gutteridge spoiled the Tribe's 12 hit barrage with a three run homer off Prendergast in the sixth.

St. Paul drubbed third place Columbus 12-4 behind Morris Martin's eight hitter. Martin struck out eight.

Louisville slammed eight extra base hits to overpower Minneapolis 16-6. Jerry White showed the way with two home runs and a double to drive in four runs. Jim Lublin of Minneapolis ran his consecutive game hitting string to 16 with a double and a triple.

Atomic Ship Story Is Denied by Navy

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, July 20—The Navy said today that "No Navy ship carrying an atomic bomb ever disappeared."

Its comment was in response to a statement by Rear Adm. Ellis M Zacharias, USN retired, that a Navy vessel carrying an atomic bomb disappeared in the Pacific during the war. Zacharias made the statement last night in a Mutual Broadcasting System program from New York.

The Navy said it never heard of such an incident It said it had not read Zacharias' script and did not know what he was referring to.

Political Candidate Gets the Last Laugh

By The United Press

HOUSTON, Tex.—E. T. Morgan, a candidate for county commissioner, got sweet revenge against a man who mutilated one of his campaign posters.

The man lost his wallet containing $134, Morgan said, "while beating my poster with a broom handle."

Morgan said he would be happy to return the money to its owner—provided the owner had the effrontery to call for it in person.

"But if he doesn't claim the $134," the candidate triumphed "I'll be forced to use it to start my campaign fund."
